

Overdue Follow Through

Will today be the day that I finally decide?
Because I'm done with the pride that tomorrows provide Wanting and hating and dreading and waiting
Spending the day with endless debating
From radical plans with my own two hands
To tried and true ways from more glorious days

I'm sick of this do nothing think nothing pit
And I'm ready to lose it I want to submit
I'm sick of designing this plan for resigning
So show me the line I'm ready to sign
I'll start over new and give it to you
It's time that I pay my overdue follow through